INTRODUCTION

In this book,
we hope you will find the essence of Annandale High School.
We cannot recreate the last-period lethargy,
the perspiring tension of athletics,
the indescribable mood of Prom night,
but we hope this book will help to remind you of the many moods of Annandale High School.

a word, a tune, a story, a line

The Time
There is a time for some things,
And a time for all things;
A time for great things
And a time for small things.

—Cervantes

Brian Price and John Fellows await Mrs. Woodson's decision on a pending S.C.A. matter.

A moment of contemplation.

DEDICATION:

Watching intently, Mrs. Woodson waits for her typing students to conclude a timed writing.

Mrs. Garland Woodson

For her understanding and help, the senior class dedicates this 1966 Antenna to Mrs. Garland Woodson. Her experiences with a teenage daughter of her own and on the student council during her own college years help her to understand the students around her. With these assets, Mrs. Woodson has led the S.C.A. and all her students with a hand that knows how they think, feel, and act.

STUDENT LIFE

Crepe paper forest, shotgun and marriage license, deafening beat of a band . . .
time to relax,
to have fun.

Mounting tension . . . the finalists are chosen and Miss Annandale is announced.

Laughing faces . . .
unable to resist the humor of the Senior play.

A crescendo of sound, swelling and rising, filling the room with beauty . . .

Christmas and Easter assemblies.

Twenty-two kicking, fighting, out-for-blood girls chasing a ball on a slippery field, intent on victory.

These things make up the year - backbreaking effort behind the scenes; beauty, fun, and talent on the surface.

Vance Veynar prepares to get his crazy-foam football from fellow cheerleader Gary Grayson.

The cheerleaders look anxiously on as the girls do battle.

POWDERPUFF FOOTBALL

Under the able leadership of their coaches, the Junior and Senior girls met on the football field once again for the annual Powder Puff game. Numerous, long after school practices (made even more numerous by several postponements of the game due to bad weather conditions) paid off for the Seniors, who, urged on by their enthusiastic cheerleaders, battled their way to a traditional victory. When all the dust had settled, the scoreboard read Seniors 21, Juniors 6.

The Senior defense digs in to halt an underclass drive.

Don Hayes, Doug Arthur, Bob Dawson, Jim Root, Dan Dobson, and Monte Willis coached the senior girls to their traditional victory.

"What? Me worry?"

SADIE HAWKINS

"Dogpatch, here we come" was the word given out by the S. C. A. in reference to the Sadie Hawkins Dance. This special dance gave all Annandale's girls the chance they wanted—they could ask for a date! Armed with a corsage from her own herb garden or one purchased from the Keyette Club, Annandale's typical Daisy Mae went to pick up her very own Little Abner. To conclude the evening Marry'n Sams Ellis, Wade and Albro placed the curtain rod rings on the fingers of the newly-weds and fired off the shotgun to formally conclude the ceremony.

Mike Pederson shows Barb Scherer he has the fastest bottle in the East.

The Crypt-Kickers, too, go Dogpatch.

Mike Albro stares incredulously at Neal Ellis' jug of "White Lightnin'."

MAGAZINE DRIVE

Bruce Elliot, chairman of the Mag Drive, sits astride the Honda everyone hoped to win.

The Seniors invest their hard earned cash in financially sound periodicals, as evidenced here.

"Come on, please buy a mag. I gotta sell my seven dollar quota to win the Honda." This must have been what Annandale's students did this year; they went over the $10,000 goal. Surprisingly enough, the senior class pushed itself and sold its quota for the first time in years, and, by doing this, outsold the hustling Class of 1968. Bruce Elliot, the Mag Drive Chairman, found that the extra $1,500 for the general activities fund more than made up for his strenuous efforts and those of his fine staff.

Steve Oliver checks out comely Greg Brock in that riotous assembly.

TALENT SHOW

Debbie Tilton walks her invisible tight-rope.

Prize winners Allan Clark, Sonja Newland and Barb Mayhall sing "Summer Song" while Pat Sari is lost between her two taller friends.

On the seventeenth of November the Talent Show finalists were introduced to the student body by Jim Carter, Master of Ceremonies. Three judges, Mr. Henretty, Mrs. Driess and Malcolm Groome, selected the winners. The dance category was won by Donna Bray, and Ken Watson headed the instrumental field with an original piano composition. For top honors in the singing division there was a tie between Allan Clark and Marge Gillikin and the group composed of Sonja Newland, Barbara Mayhall, and Pati Sari. A special category was won by Susan Sowers. The winners in each category received a check drawn from the twenty-five cent admission price.

Peter Pan, alias Carol Daughn, gives a lively impression of Never-Never Land.

HOMECOMING

Some people were just dying to get to the Homecoming Dance.

Pat Marusak typifies the high Atom spirits.

Mr. Buckley congratulates Homecoming Queen Sandy Cook.

"Beat Stuart" rang the halls of A.H.S. as our number one rated team prepared for the Homecoming game against J.E.B. Stuart. This hectic week left little time for studies since each class had to prove that it had the most spirit, each club had to prove it could make the best float, and the senior boys had to venture to the Stuart Raiders' lair to hang posters and signs! The pep rally put the Atom supporters in the mood to give the team the moral support it needed and deserved.

The half-time festivities were even brighter with the scoreboard shining in Annandale's favor. After the floats had passed by, Sandy Cook, the 1965 Homecoming Queen, was presented along with her court from the Miss Annandale Contest and a representative of each class who was selected by the football teams. As the band and the floats moved off the field, the mighty Atoms returned to make the Homecoming game the best part of the week.

All enjoyed the S.C.A. and Pep Club-sponsored Homecoming Dance on the following night where the Homecoming Queen and her court were again presented. As the weekend drew to a close, Annandale prepared to resume a normal life after a pleasingly different and rewarding week.

The Keyettes' stork is expecting a victory.

The half-time festivities are concluded as the Homecoming Queen and her court prepare to leave.

YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU

Mike Albro gives his thanks to the prompter.

You Can't Take It With You, presented by the senior class and the Drama Department, was a grand success. This comedy, set in New York in the mid-thirties, starred Kathy Green and Curt Sayblack as the parents of the happy-go-lucky Sycamore family. The romance between Debbie Twardy and Jeff Davidson was almost ruined when his parents, John Fellows and Sharon Schoolar, observed the family in their various eccentric pursuits of happiness. But Grandpa Pat Cassidy convinced John that there is more to life than stocks and bonds, and saved the engagement.

I don't know, but we must be doing something right.

I'm twice the man you are!

"Personally I think Raid works best," Curt Sayblack advises Mike Albro.

The start of a memorable week—Mr. Buckley and Mrs. Woodson greet Mr. Eddie Herb.

TENNIS PLAYERS

January 10th brought sixty tennis players from thirty-four nations to Annandale. Under the sponsorship of the People to People Sports Committee, these boys used our school as their home base for a three day tour of Washington. Included in their stay were a reception, a Keyette-sponsored dinner, a dance, a wrestling match and a private party on the eve of their departure. These young men left behind not only sad Annandale girls, but much good will for their respective nations.

Students and faculty alike bid the visitors a fond farewell.

John Fellows is caught in the unexpected activity of eating his stapler while decorating for the dance.

SWEETHEART DANCE

After many hours of preparation, the scene was set for the annual Sweetheart Dance. The Plague, with shoulder-length hair, appeared, getting the dance off to a brisk start. Dances later, the Sweetheart Court was presented, and then the evening ended — much too early for most. Everyone enjoyed the dance, but the Key Club appreciated it most, for, despite their extensive expenditures, the evening proved highly profitable.

IT'S ACADEMIC

Neither nosy cameras, nor bright lights, nor a jittery audience dulled the intellect of Annandale's scholars.

"Let's introduce the Annandale team: John Fellows, captain Pete Balas, and Elaine Tennant," Mac McGary of WRC-TV started off the 1966 session of It's Academic. Mac was a little flustered because he had to start late—they had lost the NBC color peacock and couldn't start on time! Until the grab-bag period came, Wheaton and Holy Name Academy were ahead. But in the closing moments Annandale captured the lead and won the game.

On February nineteenth, Pete, John, and Elaine had a chance to advance Annandale in the second round. But the opposition proved too strong and our team of scholars went down to defeat.

Mac McGary asked the questions, and Mr. Fisher helped keep score, while John Fellows, Pete Balas, and Elaine Tennant represented Annandale.

A torrent of admirers rushed to congratulate the team on its first win.

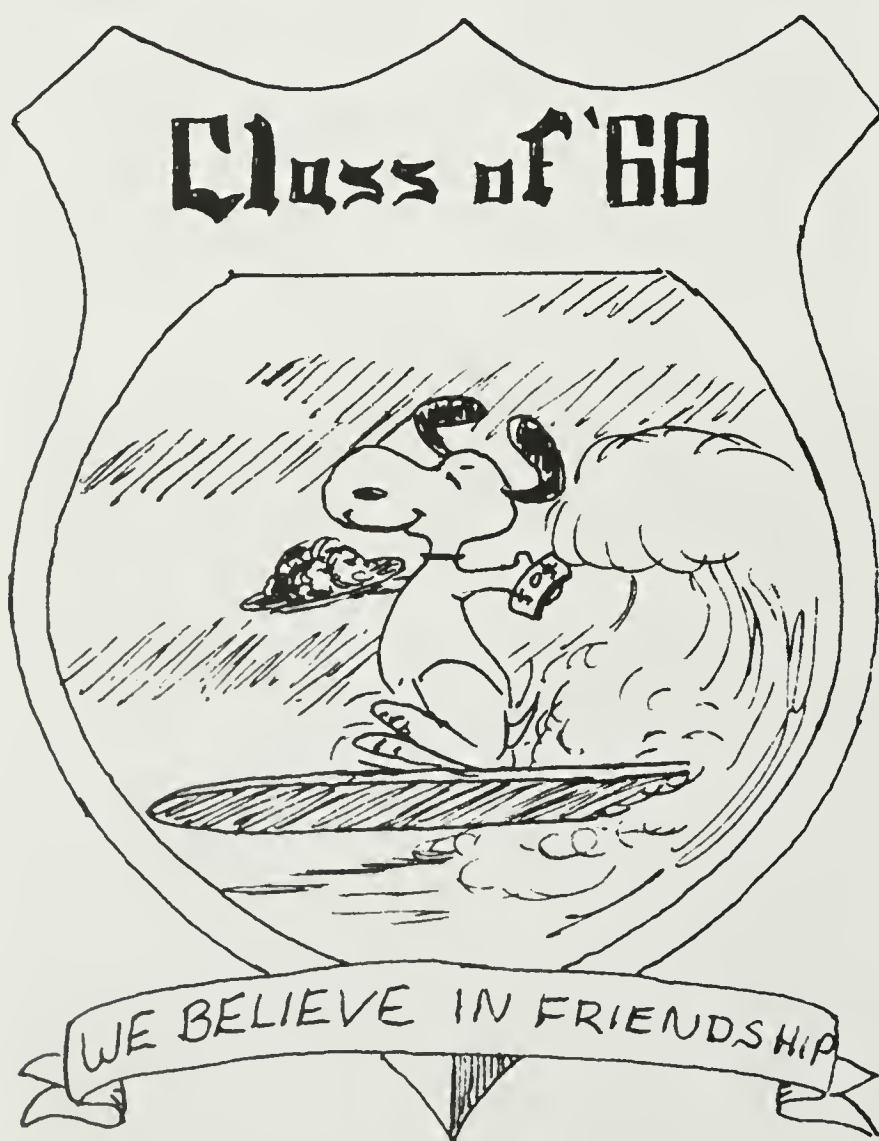

"Where does she get all her energy?"

What fiendish ideas lurk in the minds of Steve and Jeff?

SPAGHETTI DINNER-DANCE

Guitar music, soft candlelight, an Italian garden, checkered tablecloths, and costumed waiters all helped to make up the authentic atmosphere that dominated the scene at the Sophomore Spaghetti Dinner. An outstanding success, the dinner was a tribute to the ability of the Sophomore class to work effectively to present a project which was entertaining as well as profitable.

Satisfied with Mama Galasso's Italian spaghetti, the customers proceeded to a dance with the music provided by the New Del-Phonics.

Pat Cassidy delivers his campaign speech to an attentive audience.

S.C.A. ELECTIONS

March ushered in the S.C.A. elections as the student body began to take sides and choose its favorite candidates. The campaign speeches were made and, on the following Wednesday, each student cast his vote. Finally, after six long hours, the election returns were in! Malcolm Groome, Pat Cassidy, Wende Sylvester, and Judy Paschall had all secured offices in the coming year's Student Cooperative Association.

Malcolm sometimes wondered if all the campaign gimmicks made any difference.

The receiving line awaits the Senior Class Officers.

THE SENIOR PROM

"Where are you going for dinner?" Blackie's, 823, Sirloin and Saddle. "Who's doing your hair?" Charles of the Ritz, Vincent et Vincent. "Boutonniere! I forgot his Boutonniere!" "Sam, you made the pants too long."

The Senior Prom, the most lavish and most anticipated dance of the year, was held in the Persian Room of the Marriott Motor Hotel on Friday, April 29.

"Only two hours to get my hair done! It takes all day!" "White orchids, purple orchids, pink orchids . . ."

"Ocean City! Are you kidding?" "Foley! Put your blanket on!"

Randy Blythe takes advantage of the band's fine entertainment.

"Where have all the girls gone?"

Our foreign exchange student, Bilge Candemir, enjoys the prom too.

Sandy Smith, a former Miss Annandale, and Richard Kimsey introduce the many contestants.

Rushing to congratulate the winner, the contestants momentarily betray their anxiety.

MISS ANNANDALE CONTEST

The eventful evening began as each of the forty-eight contestants was presented with the knowledge that soon one of them would be the new Miss Annandale High School. While the judges interviewed the girls back-stage, the audience enjoyed the fashion show in the vivid "Back to Paradise" setting. After three hours, the decision was made, and lovely Marilyn Horton was crowned Miss Annandale.

JUNIOR JOLLIES

Beware all fugitives from the law; Batman Finch is here!

Hap Ertlschweiger and Margie Yep sing a quiet ballad.

Although the Junior Jollies was a one night stand, it was a highly successful variety show. The Go-Go Girls had their Nineteenth Nervous Breakdown to the musical talents of the Villagers, the Fables, and the Dropouts. Veteran Bill Rose returned with his rendition of a hula and the "Tummies" marched over the "Bridge of the River Kwai." Over the bridge we found Annandale's own Mutt and Jeff, alias Cathy Tidball and Anne Lawton. Next in cast, Marge Gillikin, assisted by Mike Williams and Bill Chambless, sang two folk songs. A little jazz, modern dance, and then the highlight of the evening, the teacher skit. Everyone could tell the intelligence and preparation that went into this year's masterpiece.

Sing to me, Illya.

The tempting cuisine of the Orient is savored by the prom-goers.

Sophomores Rick Clark and Gina Foley serve the juniors in the Latin American corner.

JUNIOR PROM

"The Four Corners of the World" was the theme of this year's Junior Prom. Palm trees and pineapples filled the Polynesian corner, Spanish guitars decorated the Latin American area, the Eiffel Tower symbolized Europe, and Japanese lanterns and dragons brightened the Oriental section. Dressed in appropriate costumes, the sophomores served refreshments while the "Bedford Set" provided music.

Class President Bob Ellis and his date Barbara Hamilton pose with Pete Checkovich and Carole Popp in the Polynesian section.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Besides attending Boys' State at the College of William and Mary, John Fellows achieved the honor of being one of the two Virginia delegates to Boys' Nation held at College Park, University of Maryland. John made it two in a row for Annandale delegates at Boys' Nation; Dave Spaulding attended in 1964.

Neal Ellis was elected Governor of Boys' State in July. As Governor, he met Lieutenant Governor Mills Godwin, two representatives, and a senator. Neal is the first of Annandale's delegates to be elected to such a high office.

At the College of William and Mary in June, these boys, Brian Price, Chris Kohn, Terry Burgler, John Fellows, and Mike Wakefield (not pictured) represented Annandale at Boys' State. They participated in mock elections, ran their own government, and heard well-qualified speakers give them insight into the workings of their state government. Chris Kohn was elected to the office of Chief Justice, and other officers are shown on the opposite page.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Skip Startzel won the Virginia State Wrestling Championship in the 95 lb. division at the State Wrestling tourney held at W & L High School.

Elaine Tennant, sponsored by the Annandale Chamber of Commerce, spent her summer in Austria as part of the Experiment in International Living. Living with an Austrian family part of the summer, she also visited Germany, Holland, Belgium, and Amsterdam.

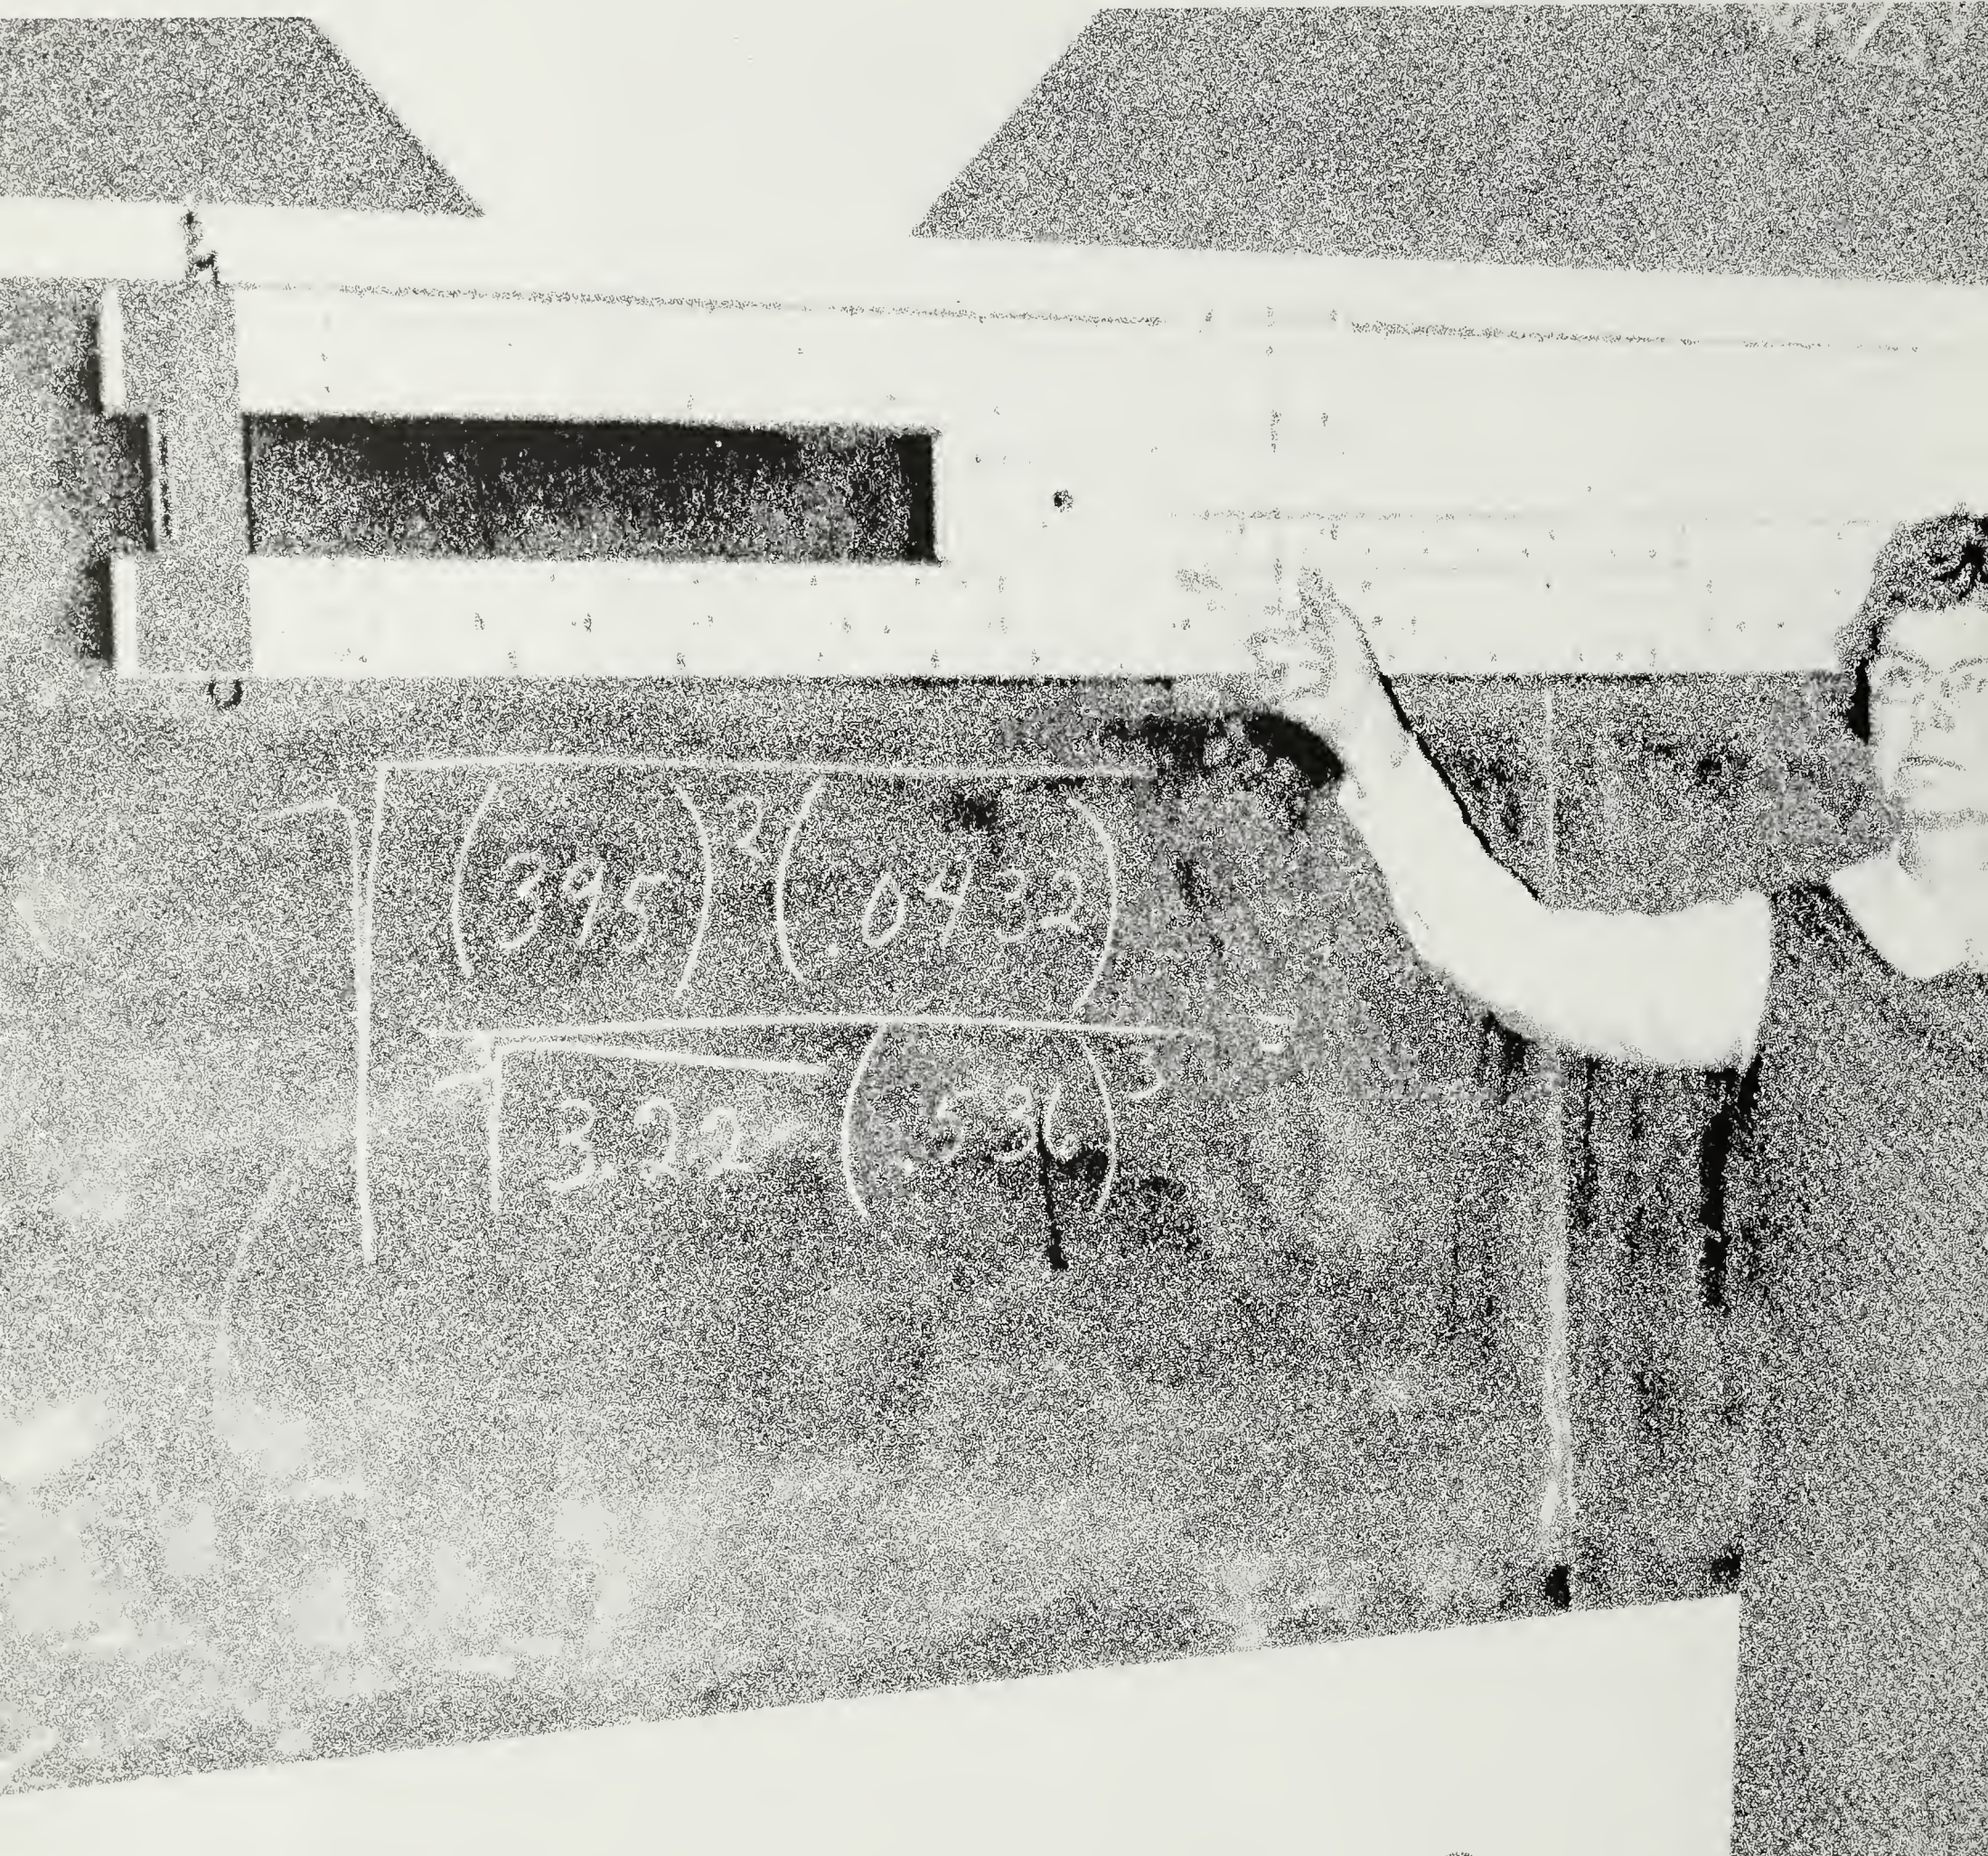

As every student at Annandale will surely remember for many years, 1966 was the year the Atoms won the state football championship, in a play-off against Granby High School in Richmond.

ACADEMICS

The secret formula for Annandale's success is:
faculty + effort = achievement.
Those so-called tyrants,
our teachers,
are the controlling factor in making AHS the school it is.
Not forgotten is their tireless effort
in coaching our teams, sponsoring our clubs, and lending their support to our efforts.
Thank you, teachers,
for all your help.

MR. BUCKLEY

Mr. Ralph Buckley's job as Principal continues after school, on week-ends, and throughout the summer, when all thoughts of school are banished from the minds of the student body. Coordinating the many activities of Annandale High, attending meetings, and keeping the faculty, student body, and administration informed on each other's activities almost fill his hours; however, more light-hearted activities such as the crowning of the Homecoming Queen do occur, giving Mr. Buckley a chance to practice one of his favorite hobbies, photography. For his warm friendship, loyalty, and indefatigable service, the student body thanks Mr. Buckley.

MR. FINCH

Despite the fact that his job includes the unpleasant task of disciplining students, Mr. Finch still is one of the most popular and respected administrators at Annandale. His day begins before dawn, and frequently, due to the many after-school activities, ends long after dark. A student can find a no more honest, hard-working friend than Mr. Finch. The student body expresses its sincerest appreciation to Mr. Finch for his consistent service.

MR. DAVIS

Two years as the Assistant Principal for Instruction included not only the supervision of teachers, texts, and substitutes, but the creation of many warm friendships and several mock wars with the Antenna Staffs and S.C.A. However, next year we will not hear the sound of Mr. Davis' laughter or enjoy his wit, because he will be at McLean, where we wish him great success.

COL. CLARKE

Transition has marked the past two years for Col. Clarke. Giving up two-thirds of his teaching schedule last year, he took charge of the new IBM machines. This year he relinquished his two classes and control of the machine room to assume a position in the office as an administrative aide. The student body is very grateful for the persistent service of Col. Clarke.

Mrs. Watson's tireless efforts in the front office are filled with many tasks including, checking students in and out.

As school nurse, Miss Monn helps to stave off the diseases that invade Annandale.

Mrs. Fairchild keeps Annandale mechanized through her work in the IBM room.

Mrs. Bartlett's energy is used in full this year as she helps to organize the business side of A.H.S.

Being too busy with their move to the new library, librarians Mrs. Ashenhurst and Mrs. Smith are reluctant to have their picture taken.

Keeping Annandale's financial books balanced is the job of Mrs. Simmons, the Finance Director.

First row: Mrs. Lory. Second row: Mr. Canonica, Mrs. Randa, Mrs. Sample, Mr. Jones, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Battaglia.

Guidance Secretaries Mrs. Weill and Mrs. Rademaker enjoy collecting money for senior transcripts.

GUIDANCE

"Please sign in," the signs ask you; you have entered the complicated world of the guidance department. Here a freshman finds advice on adjusting to high school, juniors and seniors prepare for their future by choosing the right courses, and baffled college-bound seniors are comforted as the college catalogs are translated for them. Even more difficult is the department's task of calming and counselling parents, teachers, and students in "personality clashes," and motivating "under-achievers." In this small quiet suite of offices, each student can find a wealth of advice, information, and encouragement.

FACULTY RECOGNITION

As the year draws to a close, the Atoms are crushed to learn that Mr. Henry, coach of the number one team in Virginia, is leaving us. His familiar shirtsleeved figure pacing the sidelines will be gone next year, taking with it many fond memories of victories brought about by his superb leadership. Not to be ignored is the title "Coach of the Year," bestowed on him at the end of the 1965 season as a result of his winning team. Mr. Henry, AHS will miss you in the years to come, but congratulations and good luck on your new job as Assistant Coach at VMI!

Annandale High School students, the faculty, and the business community will suffer a loss as the result of the decision of Mrs. Beatrice Frutchev to retire from the field of teaching in June, 1966. She has been a great asset to Annandale the past twelve years in her dual role as head of the Business Department and as Vocational Office Training Coordinator, giving her students a solid foundation for successful careers as members of the business world and as active citizens of the community. Faculty members will remember her for her friendly cooperation, and willingness to help in time of need.

The students and the faculty join in wishing her much happiness in the years to come.

ENGLISH

Term papers, sentence diagrams, and Shakespeare again haunted English students. Through Greek mythology, and Poe's short stories, from vocabulary to Hawthorne's scarlet A, students struggled to become literary. Juniors were initiated to the dilemma of meeting a term paper deadline, hoping teachers wouldn't check on the feigned dates and page numbers. Late into the night, seniors tried to memorize the speeches of insane characters from Shakespeare's tragedies. While the journalism classes kept the student body enlightened on the school news with the faithful publication of the A-Blast, drama students tried becoming actors and actresses with some noted success. And English teachers completed another year of teaching English, good manners, character, and common sense.

A choo-choo was the center of attention at the Miss Aspinall-Mr. Henretty Christmas party. A good time was had by all.

By the use of hand signals Miss Stidley helps her students imagine a figure in geometry.

MATH

Bewildered math students barely graduated from finding x when they lost it again in a maze of congruent triangles and alternate interior angles, hyperbolic paraboloids and icosododecahedrons. Then they were baffled by how loci go around square corners in curves and thoroughly discouraged with the discovery that $2 \times 2 = 1$, as long as it's mod 3. Some functions classes learned to gamble and win, and senior analysis students got a lesson in cannibal strategy. Once upon a time, there was a man who was captured by two cannibals, and he was given the choice between two doors; one led to freedom and the other to the cooking pot. The man was allowed one question. One native always told the truth and the other always lied. How did he get free? Only Mrs. Ramay knows!

Mr. Ailstock amuses his gaunt friend, feeding him from a flask.

Mr. Keller pauses to decide whether he should drink his potent solution.

SCIENCE

Amid bloody dissecting tools and overflowing test tubes, the science department explored the laws and strange phenomena of the universe. Everything was fine until the frog some biology student had just sliced open suddenly came alive, or the teachers gave standardized tests. In their new labs, physics students spilled a few gallons of water as they diligently watched waves in the ripple tanks, and chem study classes made hairy wires that looked like animals out of copper and silver nitrate. This year earth science was added to the curriculum of modern sciences. Ah, Science — the wonderful world of question marks!

First row: Mr. Ailstock, Mr. Bugin, Mrs. Wood. Second row: Mr. Gill Mr. Keller, Mr. Heinz, Mr. Figgers.

SOCIAL STUDIES

First row: Mr. Dorminey, Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. Van Sant, Mr. Higgins. Second row: Mr. Costello, Mr. Porter.

Coups, undeclared wars, and ambiguous foreign policies all complicated the task, but the social studies department once again managed to enlighten its students on the state of the world. In World Geography other countries and their people were brought into focus, and in World History an understanding of the past's relevance to the present and future was attempted. In U. S.-Virginia History, U.S.-Virginia Government, economics, and sociology, juniors and seniors concentrated on understanding their own country and, hopefully, emerged well prepared for participation in its government.

BUSINESS

Business: Standing: Mr. Good, Mrs. Dixon, Mrs. Woodson, Miss Wilson. Seated: Mrs. Frutchey.

The rhythmic pounding of typewriters echoed down the hall as students typed manuscripts and improved their timed writings. Others studied business law or prepared for Civil Service exams in shorthand. On-the-job training was offered to D.E. and V.O.T. students, as teachers strove to prepare their classes for the world of time schedules and job interviews.

First row: Miss Stephanz, Mrs. Morrell, Mrs. Tannous, Miss Mack. Second row: Mrs. McDowell, Mr. Mastbrook, Mrs. Worrell, Cmdr. Buckley, Mrs. Little.

Miss Doud teaches her classes to add and subtract in Spanish.

LANGUAGE

Quiet, alert concentration filled the atmosphere as a roomful of language students attempted to decipher the ALM listening test. After the first two years, the students turned to written translation, having mastered pronunciation and the art of thinking in a foreign language. Roxane Swartz, Jan Gullledge, and Linda Albright, to the envy of all, plan to spend the summer practicing their Spanish at the University of Salamanca in Spain.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

After hours of sitting still, keeping quiet, writing, and reading, physical education classes were understandably ready to release some of their built-up energy. Boys' classes built up their muscles with football, wrestling, basketball, volleyball, and vaulting, besides a regular routine of strenuous calisthenics. These calisthenics were the most fun, though, when the coaches would leave for the athletic offices and give the guys a chance to risk "goofing-off."

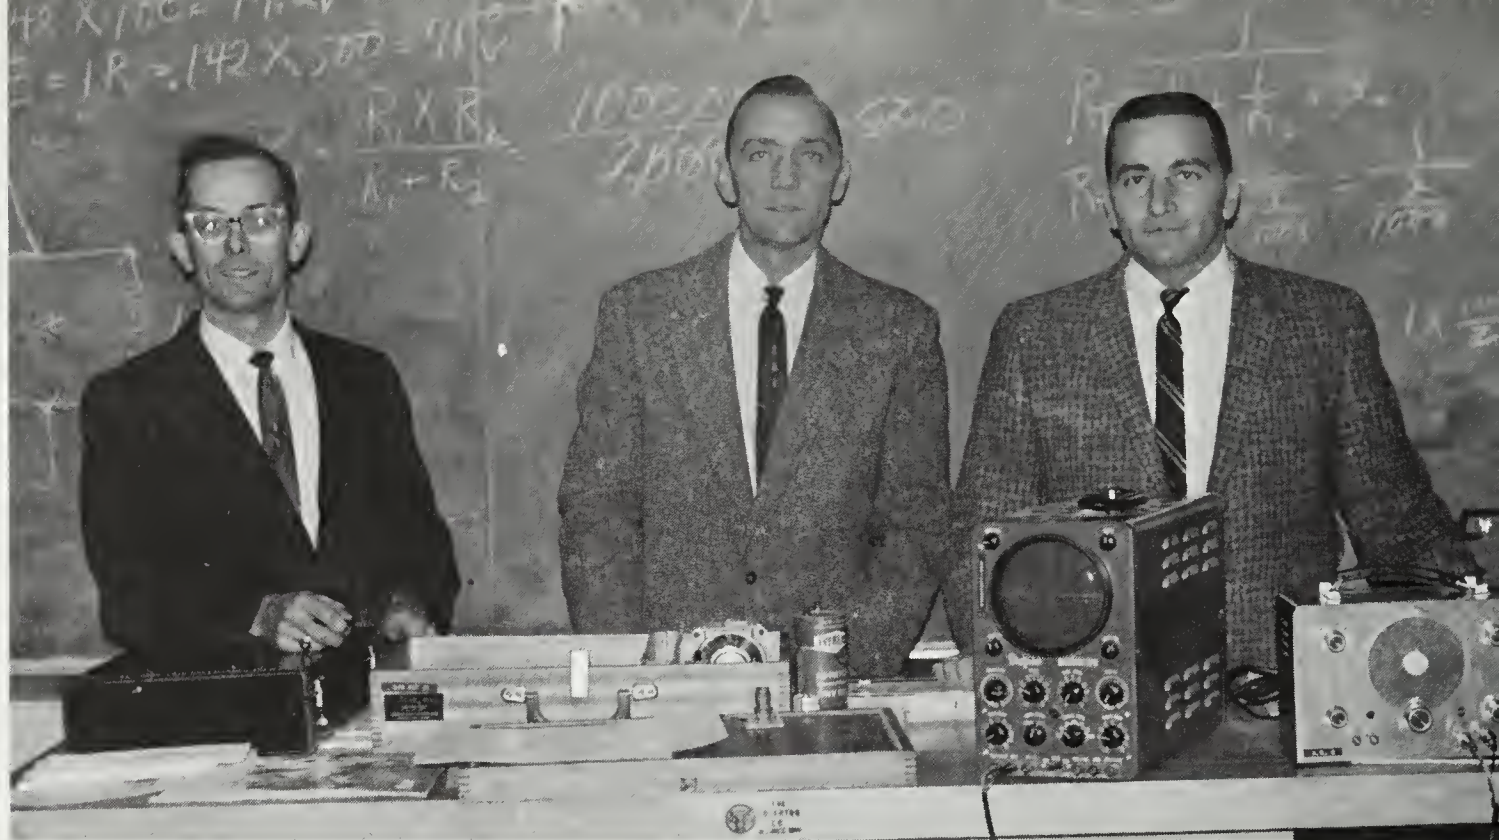

Mr. Henry is congratulated by his fondest fan club, his family.

Girls' P.E. classes became more and more interesting as students moved up in the grades. Freshmen worked on their hockey, volleyball, and basketball, and improved their equilibrium on the balance beam. Dance and parallel bars routines were added in the sophomore year, but juniors and seniors sampled the greatest number of new sports; bowling, archery, fencing, tennis, golf, and free exercises kept the girls not only healthy but enthusiastic.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Mr. Crosier; Mr. Shriver; Mr. Beto.

Mrs. Chester; Mrs. Hudgins.

HOME ECONOMICS

Somewhere within a cloud of sawdust and a deafening racket of power saws and crashing hammers, shop classes learned the art of do-it-yourself carpentry. In a calmer atmosphere, mechanical drawing classes played with T-squares and drew blue prints while electronics students puzzled over the intricacies of various instruments and meters. The industrial arts department has met the greater demands of the continuous advances in technology.

Ouch! The shriek frequently sounded across the home ec rooms as the girls discovered that the stoves were hot or tried to sew their fingers in with the hems. They studied interior decorating and planned the gorgeous rooms they'll own; they studied food values and vitamins; while learning to make their own clothes, they became experts at ripping out the seams. Then, in those group cooking projects, they reaffirmed that old maxim: too many cooks do spoil the stew. The home economics department appealed to the practical side of life in its goal to produce accomplished housewives for the future.

Mr. Connell and Mr. Farris, the music mentors of AHS.

MUSIC

With the serious business of training voices and preparing concerts in mind, the sounds of music echoed across the locker rooms, down the halls, and through the buses. A new choir was added this year, the Advanced Girls, for upperclassmen who had never sung in the chorus. Besides the Spring, Fall, and Christmas concerts which the chorus and band shared, the chorus traveled to New Jersey to entertain another school and then to New York to do a little sight-seeing on the side. When everyone noticed lots of little children under foot, he knew it was time for the band's annual Tiny Tots Concert. The Atom's band marched across the football fields at half time and performed from the stands, and if that wasn't enough, they led victory trains through the school to boost the team to victory.

Mrs. Henry and Mr. Roberson pose before a backdrop of creativity constructed by their art classes.

ART

With the same routine of gooey paint, ink, slimy clay, plaster dust, and clean-up day, the art department made it through another year. The classrooms were enlarged so there would be more room for a bigger mess as students merrily and meticulously took their frustrations out on paper and canvas. They haven't discovered any Michelangelos or Picassos, but they are learning and they sure are having fun.

SENIORS

Despite the madness in our method,
We made it through 'til June Having overcome more than Unusual obstacles . . .
When . . .
Winding halls led to rooms
Where there were no rooms before . . .
The library closed in the midst of Spring term paper season . . .
We managed to adjust in the Traditional Senior style
To both the new and old.
Amid term papers and memory lines,
Privileges gained and lost,
We donned our '66 derbies,
Demonstrated our indomitable Senior Spirit.
"An experience" it was.

Senior Class officers: Secretary, Kathy Kearney; V.P., Neal Ellis; President, Chris Kohn; Treasurer, Sue Covell.

"Don't worry, Skip," says Pat Marusak, "I'll catch you."

CLASS OF 1966

"To be or not to be — that is the question." That was the question that seniors asked as they floundered through Shakespearean tragedy. They filled the halls with their cries of "Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune," (hoping to get accepted at a college early in the year so there would be plenty of time for goofing off), "or to take arms against a sea of troubles and by opposing, end them." (This would call for the annihilation of all senior English teachers and the burning of all available copies of Macbeth, Hamlet, Othello, and King Lear.)

Besides "enjoying" Shakespeare, the seniors went out of their way to keep from stepping on freshmen, offending colleges, or working too hard during the second semester. In spite of all this, the Class of 1966 survived until graduation without suffering much permanent damage.

Our sponsors, Mrs. Ames and Mr. Fisher, deserve many thanks for their support and help throughout the year.

And they say seniors goof off! Here, Gary exemplifies the typical friendly, hard-working senior.

Hap expresses the consensus of the senior class.

Some "helpful" members of the Key Club are bungling things up, as usual.

ORGANIZATIONS

Every goal at AHS rose higher in 1966.

Emphasis on grades was greater,
more time was demanded,
subjects were harder.

Despite these growing pressures, the honor societies were still filled, service clubs increased their activities,
and athletic clubs strove harder for success.

A precedent was set - a standard for future years to follow.

S C A

"Who's going to chaperone the dance Friday night?"

"Are all of the ballots for Wednesday's elections printed?"

These are some of the bits of conversation heard through the door of room 111 during seventh period, the S.C.A. study hall. In her first year as its sponsor, Mrs. Woodson found all the S.C.A.'s problems ending up as her responsibilities.

With students heading committees for activities, publicity and elections, the job of President Terry Burgler, although still great, was lessened. Some of the more notable accomplishments of the S.C.A. this year were the Homecoming weekend, the Miss Annandale Contest, S.C.A. elections and numerous dances.

Mrs. Woodson did her best to try to please all of the people all of the time.

Officers: Stephanie Steiger, secretary; Terry Burgler, president; Mrs. Woodson, sponsor; Hope Heaven, treasurer; Malcolm Groome, vice-president.

When Key Clubbers McElmurry, Klearney, and Kohn aren't working, they practice their magic tricks.

KEY CLUB

"I can't get no, satisfaction," rang the words of the infamous Key Club band — Mogan David and the Grapes of Wrath. Of course, this band played only when the Key Club, led by Steve Oliver, took a break from its heavy schedule of activities. School projects included raising and lowering the flags, parking cars for Back-to-School Night and the Miss Annandale Contest, farming selected plots for the newly constructed courts, and building a prize-winning float for Homecoming. Other important services rendered were finding homes of the tennis players, running the school store, and sponsoring Safety Week for the second time.

Community service was not forgotten either. The Blind Bowlers of America were helped as were the workers at the Fairfax T.B. center. When K Clubbers helped the Kiwanis sell both fireworks and Christmas trees, they found the self satisfaction of service; they found other rewards at the Convention in Norfolk.

KEYETTES

Starting the year by winning the Homecoming Float competition, the Keyettes maintained a full schedule of activities. With bake sales, a shoe shine, and the sale of traditional vegetable corsages for the Sadie Hawkins dance, they raised money for the Peace Corps. The championship tennis players were greeted by Keyettes, and the Keyette National Convention in D.C. was the memorable climax of another year of service.

JUNIOR CIVITANS

"Fruitcakes, anyone?" questioned the Junior Civitans at Christmastime. This profitable activity was one of the many projects sponsored by this young, active club. Again finding themselves in the selling market, the Civitans sold candy to please the palate and safety flares to assure the stranded motorist of his safety. They also entered a float in the Homecoming float competition, and after each home football game, the Civitans took it upon themselves to clean up the stadium. As a final service project, they cared for a mentally retarded child.

PEP CLUB

Without a doubt, the Pep Club is one of the most active and appreciated clubs in the school. Hall decorations for each sport as well as locker signs for each athlete rank high on the list of club activities. Remember those balloons that went up when the Atoms scored their first touchdown? The Pep Club was there too, selling the balloons. The bulletin boards in the cafeteria bear the words of the Pep Club urging the Atoms on to more and more victories. Do you think this is enough to keep the club active? NO! They decorated for both Homecoming and Snowball dances, sponsored Spirit Week, decorated the football goalposts, shined our many trophies and gave us the spirit it took to be number one!

FRENCH CLUB

Le Cercle Francais, better known as the French Club, is sponsored by Mrs. Demcak. Officers Muriel Johnson, Karen Rasmussen, Rose Mason, and Kathy Klotz, kept the club busy with novel activities such as Inter-club Christmas parties, a slide show filmstrip, and bingo parties. Mrs. Morrell gave a talk on her recent trip to France, and a panel discussion on French life by French students completed the events.

During the Easter holidays the Russian Club, sponsored by Mrs. Little and guided by officers John Zmud, Terry Glenn, Margaret McLeod, and Mike Wade, was host to thirty Canadian Russian students from Ottawa, Ontario. The visitors, staying in the homes of Annandale Russian students, took a tour of Washington, D. C., and attended classes at Annandale. A banquet, a Christmas party, field trips, and a program at Poe Intermediate School rounded out the Russian Club's list of Activities.

SPANISH CLUB

In addition to the traditional trip to the Inter-American Defense Board, the Spanish Club participated in an inter-club Christmas party with the French Club and took a trip to a Spanish restaurant. Sponsored by Mrs. Yaskovic and Miss Carolyn Mack, the club also hosted a guest speaker and held a picnic at the end of the year.

STAGE CREW

Serving the double purpose of providing both entertainment and art for Annandale High School, the National Thespians and the Drama Club filled the year with activities. Under the direction of Mrs. Summers, the two clubs made a float for the Homecoming Parade and sponsored the departmental play. The Drama Club also acted out the play "The Wall" which won many honors in competition with other schools. Behind the scenes, the stage crew managed the lights and curtains, performing another invaluable service for the school.

One of the most interesting programs held by the Future Homemakers of America was a speech on Indian arts and crafts. Other areas of interest which were explored included a talk on wise money management, a program on modeling, and the annual spring fashion show for the P.T.A.

Trips to the National Rehabilitation Center, Madison College, and Longwood College highlighted F.T.A. activities this year. The club also held a Faculty Welcome Tea in August, and provided decorations and refreshments for the teachers' lounges at Christmas.

A.F.S.

Besides making our foreign exchange students feel at home, the A.F.S. Club works for an understanding between various nations and peoples. The club's activities included a roller-skating party, Christmas carolling, sight-seeing trips to Washington, D. C., a potluck supper, square dances, and trips to foreign embassies.

In addition to his other jobs, typist Brian Price edited this book.

ANTENNA

Full of enthusiasm from attending year-book conferences, a staff of more than twenty people commenced work on this yearbook in September. By January about ten people were still working, and a few retained some enthusiasm. By March only four or five worked, and no one had any enthusiasm.

We would like to thank the few people whose dedication and skill contributed so much to the Antenna; Hap Ertlesh . . ., who not only took consistently excellent photographs but also put in many hours developing and printing them himself; Brian Price, editor, and Nan Wood, assistant editor, who were also sports, faculty, activities, and organization editors and who spent innumerable hours in the summer, after school, and on weekends planning, coordinating, and producing the Antenna; Anita Coles, who at any moment could give us the particulars about film, photographers, pictures, and cameras; Mike Wade for untangling our complicated and sometimes precarious financial status; the administration for the first year-book room that has been large enough; and Mr. Odom, our faculty advisor.

Only through the conscientious efforts of Hap Ertleshweiger has the Antenna received its pictures this year.

Assistant editor Nan Wood combined her many talents to add a bright touch to this year's book.

The creative side of student life is stimulated by the annual publication of the school literary magazine, Fall Out. Work on the magazine is done primarily by students, although Miss Aspinall always adds her special touch. After long hours of preparation on the part of both contributors and staff, a memorable magazine is produced which provides recognition for talent in the fields of poetry, prose, and art.

Barry Evans, editor, is in for a surprise.

Due to the number and personality of its subscribers, a school newspaper frequently receives more than its share of criticism. This year the A-Blast added columns for each of the classes to its regular features which include poetry and prose selections as well as sports and academic coverage.

Every Monday night at the Starlite Aquatic Club, the members of the Swim Club gathered to practice for area swimming meets. However, it was not all work and no play, for occasional splash parties livened things up. A car wash and a bake sale also provided a diversion.

FRESHMAN AND JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Promoting spirit for the underclass teams is the responsibility of the Junior Varsity and Freshman Cheerleaders. In addition to cheering at the games, the girls held parties for the football teams, and made locker signs to decorate the school. However, the most important contribution of the cheerleaders was the focus of attention they brought to the Freshman and Junior Varsity teams, whose achievements are often overlooked.

SENIOR TRI-HI-Y

Activities for the Kappa Beta Tri-Hi-Y this year were both fun and hard work. Their services to the community included volunteering for work at the Fairfax T.B. Center, contributing to World Service, visiting the Sleepy Hollow Nursing Home, and helping a needy family with contributions of food. On a broader scale, they supported a ten-year-old Korean orphan, Kim Sung. Plans also included an Easter party for the retarded children at the Laurel, Maryland, Institute.

Phi Sigma Omega, the Junior Tri-Hi-Y, had an eventful year, filled with volunteer work, bake sales, and a wrecked Homecoming float. Most of their time was spent at Childrens' Hospital, but a clothing drive for Junior Village was also included in their activities. Money for this and other projects was earned by a car wash and bake sales.

Because of the large turn out, three sophomore Tri-Hi-Y's were formed, the goal of each being to serve the community. For a Thanksgiving Project the Phigma Kneutons prepared a turkey dinner and gave it to a needy family in Washington, D.C. Sigma Chi took Christmas gifts and refreshments to cheer up the children's ward at Fairfax Hospital. Together, Phigma Kneuton and Sigma Chi adopted a Brazilian child, and Phi Kappa Epsilon adopted an Indian orphan. The funds for these projects were earned by bake sales, a dance, and a car wash.

A major part of Annandale High School life, the choral department succeeded in bringing the hidden talent of the choir members to the student body. At Christmas and at Easter, the choirs gave fund-raising concerts, thus not only providing entertainment, but also helping the choral department to buy new music and robes for the members. In addition, the money from the concerts and the candy sale helped to finance an exchange program between the Girls' Ensemble and A Capella choirs of A.H.S. and the choirs of a school in New Jersey.

ATHLETICS

Although schools are often criticized for placing overemphasis on athletics, perhaps no other activity can instill so great an amount of school spirit in so great a number of students. Any girl or boy who has been on a team, winning or losing, can testify to the esprit de corps it generates. One of the more obvious advantages of a full athletic program is that it provides parent-approved activity for hours that would otherwise be spent in less acceptable pursuits.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Stomping Hammond in the season opener foreshadowed Annandale's first championship year. For the first touchdown of the season Steve Crane raced into the end zone with Steve Murrell's pass. The game gained momentum in the second quarter with Mike Albro's first dazzling run — 82 yards for a touchdown! Steve Murrell's pass to Ron Comerford furnished the third score. Hammond made a sustained drive in the waning minutes of the game, but in vain. A blocked punt by Tim Whelan set up the final touchdown, and another pass from Steve Murrell to Ron Comerford secured the score. The 25-0 victory marked Annandale's best start in five years.

Victory prevailed: Early in the first quarter Tom Mitchell scooped up a fumbled pass deep in Woodson territory, and moments later Steve Murrell passed to Ron Comerford in the end zone. The Atoms strengthened their lead in the second quarter with Bill Sigler's touchdown, but the Cavaliers narrowed the score gap just seconds before the halftime. Easily stealing the last score, Tim Whelan snatched an opponent's fumble, a play which led to Jim Steven's touchdown. The Cavaliers, in a determined drive, got a first down on the Atom's four yard line due to a penalty. However, Tim Whelan compounded their troubles by throwing a Woodson quarterback for a three yard loss as Atom fans counted off the seconds.

"No officer, none of our boys ever get in any trouble," states Coach Hardage.

Despite the efforts of a Falls Church defender, Ron Comerford hauls in a long pass.

Another cinch: Annandale knocked down its third victim, Lee. The Atoms piled up score after score as Bill Sigler opened the game with a touchdown, and Mike Albro made the second with another 82-yard punt return. George Price and Jim Stevens both scored in the third quarter, and Steve Murrell wrapped up the game with another touchdown. Don Greeley added four extra points. The Lancers got their only chance in the last few minutes of the game and passed for a touchdown. The Atoms were disappointed; they had pictured another shut-out.

Madison was fun to beat. Jeff Von Beulwitz made the first two touchdowns, and Steve Murrell dashed over the goal line for the third. A few minutes later, George Nield intercepted a pass and ran 25 yards for another score. It took only five plays for the Atoms to march the next 64 yards where Bob Aines made the touchdown. George Price topped the scoring rampage with a five-yard slant.

Despite the soggy bleachers, loyal fans thronged to watch the Atoms trample Fairfax. 0-0 at halftime; the suspense and tension brought many worried frowns. Cheers roared from the Annandale side as Jeff Von Beulwitz dodged the Rebels for the first touchdown of the game; next Mike Albro raced a spectacular 71 yards on a punt return to the ten. The Atoms didn't score then, but Jim Stevens relieved the disappointment with a pass from Steve Murrell and a second touchdown. So ended the fifth victory in five games for the mighty Atoms.

Pete Nickerson, Guard, All District, All Northern Virginia. Kevin Kelley, Center. Terry Burgler, Guard, All District, All Northern Virginia.

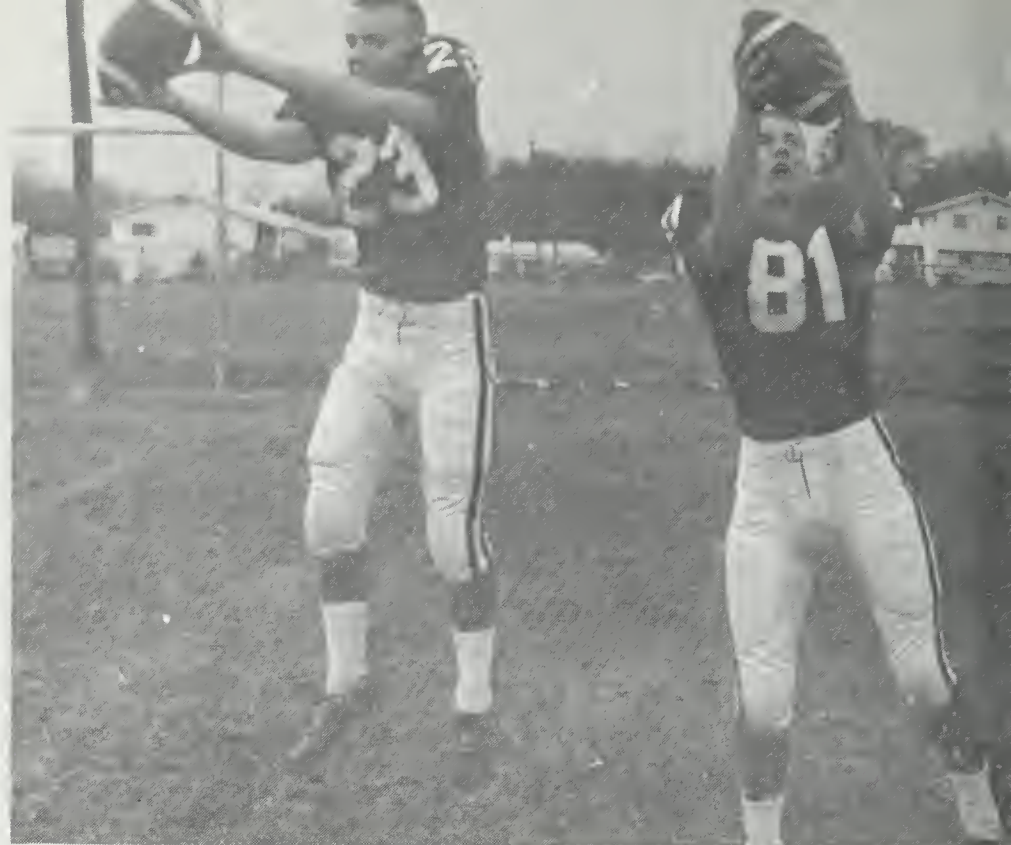

Offensive fireworks were on grand display again against Falls Church. Jeff Von Beulwitz wasted no time with the first touchdown, leading the Atoms to spoil the Jaguar's homecoming with another shut-out. The fans had a nervous moment when Falls Church pushed to Annandale's nine yard line and threatened to tie the score. However, Annandale flexed its muscles and moved 91 yards in 12 plays for a score by Steve Murrell. Three more touchdowns followed in another magnificent Atom conquest.

The Atoms held their winning streak and crushed Jefferson's Colonials. Annandale spectators who braved the messy night and near freezing temperatures expected quick action, but they had to wait until the second quarter. The Colonials held on doggedly for the first period, but then it was Annandale's game. They exploded into action with tricky plays. Jeff Von Beulwitz scored the first two touchdowns, and Bill Sigler opened the new half with a pounding 60-yard run for another score. Steve Murrell was responsible for the last two touchdowns, one on his own, and the last with a pass to Steve Crane. The Colonials had a hectic night.

Another flawless performance was stocked up against Edison. Both teams were held scoreless for the first quarter; then Jim Stevens scored a touchdown with a pass from Steve Murrell. Jeff Von Beulwitz and Ron Comerford each secured another score, and Pete Nickerson made the kicks. This was a scoring tribute to the defense, which, led by Greeley, Gilden, and Klingensmith, held the notoriously powerful Edison offense to only 50 yards. They let the Eagles have a touchdown late in the game; it was only sporting.

Faces in the stands were anxious, but full of homecoming spirit, for the game against Stuart. Rain was a persistent Friday plague, not ceasing even for homecoming, but the mud didn't slow the Atoms. Don Greeley's interception of a Stuart pass set up the Atom's first tally. With a pass from Steve Murrell, Jeff Von Beulwitz scored a touchdown with only six seconds left in the first quarter. Then Mike Albro snatched a punt on the Atom's 18, stepped behind a perfect wall of blockers, and streaked 82 yards up the sidelines for a second score. The Raiders intercepted an Annandale pass in the third quarter and, helped by two long penalties, made their only touchdown of the game. The Atoms bounced right back with another score by Jeff Von Beulwitz. The Atoms emerged victorious, well on the way to their first state championship.

The Atoms overcame W. & L. for the first time in six years. Fumbles ended two promising drives in the scoreless first half. But the Atoms thrilled the crowd when they drove for a touchdown after the second-half kickoff. A pass interference call gave them a first down, and Steve Crane got the touchdown with a pass from Steve Murrell. W. & L. retaliated, storming 75 yards to the first and goal at the four, stingy Atom defense held the line. Jeff Von Beulwitz led the comeback with a touchdown in the fourth quarter, then the Atoms scored a safety for insurance. The Generals put up a stiff opposition, but Annandale's superior strength prevailed.

Another first down for Annandale as Bill Sigler charges for a long gain.

“WE’RE NUMBER ONE!” The joyous cry rang from the Annandale crowd at the unusual play-off game in Richmond on December fourth. The Atom’s defense won the game for the new STATE CHAMPIONS Granby moved to the Annandale 21-yard line in the first quarter, but the advance was turned into a break for the Atoms as Bruce Rider blocked a field goal attempt and booted the ball back to Granby’s thirty-seven to set up the first touchdown for Jeff Von Beulwitz. Into the fourth quarter it looked as though that score would have to hold Granby, but then an interception by Rick Lynch led to Steve Murrell’s touchdown. A few minutes later Robert Frere blocked a punt, and Tim Whelan snatched up the ball and lunged into the end zone. The Atoms proudly accepted their first state championship trophy.

Annandale’s first state championship is gratefully received by Coach Henry from Mr. Keir, chairman of the 1-A Board.

No, the Atoms didn’t really need supernatural help this year!

Mr. Noll, in his first year at Annandale, coached the Junior Varsity Football Team to a successful 5-2-1 season. The most outstanding game came against Stuart when the J.V. team, after trailing 13-0 early in the second half, came back to squelch their opponents 14-13. The tremendous spirit and ability of these boys, as shown in the Stuart game, make them excellent prospects for next year's varsity squad. Our state championship title will rest in good hands.

Under the able leadership of coaches Bolding and Shriver, the Annandale Freshman Football Squad accumulated the best overall record in the history of the team, winning every game except one—a scoreless tie with Fairfax. Particularly outstanding was the defensive team, led by Bob Comerford, which allowed only two touchdowns during the season and produced four shut-outs. The fine performance of these boys foreshadows a winning football team at Annandale for years to come.

Mike Hopper jubilantly agrees with the referee's decision—another J.V. touchdown!

VARSITY BASKETBALL

With the thrills of football season over, the Atoms settled down to learning how to lose a few games. The Varsity Basketball Team opened the season with an easy victory over Mt. Vernon, instilling hopes of another championship team, but the rest of the games didn't quite match their expectations. At one time they had won four games in succession, and there was a faint glimmer of hope, but that was soon crushed. Oh, well, they couldn't win at everything, and they did show enthusiasm, plenty of enthusiasm.

High scorers, Don Greeley, Steve Murrell, and Rich Fulton, starred the performances and demonstrated talent and skill. Rich Fulton made the All Tournament Team, and Don Greeley also made that team as well as the All Northern District Team. Don also earned the title of leading scorer in the Northern District. Despite the losing season total, the team had its bright moments and did not consider the season as lost.

Steve Murrell breaks away and scores easily against Ft. Hunt.

Due to the extension of the football season, the Junior Varsity Basketball Team did not get started playing until January. After a slow start, the boys racked up victories against Stuart, Fairfax, and Lee. Although the season was sparse with victories, a great deal of spirit and sportsmanship was shown. The steadily developing talent could be seen in the final two victories against Falls Church and Fairfax.

VARSITY AND JUNIOR VARSITY WRESTLING

Regional Champs! Coach Scott and his Varsity Wrestling Team compiled the best record in 1966. Skip Startzel, a 95 pound senior, managed to take both the Regional and State Championships. Other regional champions were Richard Iseke and Bob Hobson while Paul Ketcham, Mike Raphael, and Steve Latimer won second, third, and fourth places respectively.

Steve Latimer, in the 112 pound class, prepares to pin O'Leary of Jefferson.

In this outstanding season for Coach Scott and his wrestlers, many records were set. More individual matches were won than ever before and on the technical side, Paul Ketcham set a new record for takedowns, Mike Raphael established a new high for escapes, and Skip Startzel broke all records in the predicament and pin categories.

At the State Championships, Annandale made a new record in the 112 pound class. In addition to the Annandale team, the Jefferson team also made a new record in the 112 pound class.

The tense atmosphere at the State Tournament is evident.

Despite the handicap of operating without a home field, the Varsity Hockey team, coached by Miss Rachael Peters, had a successful 4-2-1 season. After a tie with Marshall on one of the most miserably hot days of the year, the team won four straight games, topping the league for three weeks before falling to Stuart and Lee. The defensive team, sparked by seniors Ann Hagan, Sharon Skinner, and Anne Paschall, was especially capable, allowing only five goals scored against them. The offensive unit also proved its merit by scoring a total of twelve goals. However, the one thing the statistics do not reveal is the unquenchable spirit which the girls exhibited throughout the entire season.

Atoms battle for the ball amid swinging sticks and rising dust.

With a stiff whack, Flo Moses drives the ball down the field.

The eighteen members of the Junior Varsity Hockey team had a successful 4-2-2 season. Playing against the area teams, the girls displayed fine skill and spirit in meeting and scrimmaging with their opponents. Mrs. Hilda Hall was their coach for the second year in a row.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Undefeated until they met Groveton, the Girls' Varsity Basketball Team had a very successful season. They tied for second place with Marshall High School after compiling an impressive 11-1 record. Under the coaching of Miss Buck and Miss Moreland and the leadership of co-captains Peggy Spruill and Sharon Skinner, the girls exhibited a great deal of teamwork and desire to win.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Once upon a time,
there was a big red and white school with heroic underclassmen and big BAD seniors. Under the constant pressure of the Big Squeeze from colleges, the seniors grew bigger and badder, and began taking it out on the harassed underclassmen. The seniors' fiendish minds construed all sorts of devious plots to trap our heroes. They were caught unaware by fake elevator tickets and student numbers. But Hark! All was not lost! They emerged gloriously with the realization that one day they too would be seniors.

Junior class officers: Bobby Ellis, president; Bill Sigler, vice-president; Bina Paglerio, treasurer; Kaye Richardson, secretary.

Quiet! Junior thinking!

CLASS OF 1967

school starts:
 happiness, chaos, noise,
 excitement, and then pool-sickness.
 Feet crammed into unaccustomed shoes, tanned faces, shaggy bleached hair—
 reminders of our lost freedom.
 School is here to stay!
 sounds dominate the scene—whirring machinery destroys thought, hoarse voices cry out for victory,
 shuffling feet betray exhaustion.
 Games slide by in a blur of victories.
 Homecoming—rain, sweatshirts, JAG.
 at 8 a.m. next morning we realize:
 grueling PSAT'S are upon us!
 then panic ensues as we decide about rings.
 Too soon:
 Prom . . . Prom . . . Prom . . . date?
 and so we wade through exams,
 to emerge tired and depleted.
 school ends.

Class sponsors, Mr. Henretty and Mr. Bolding, helped organize junior class activities, always mindful of our financial state.

CLASS OF 1968

"I'll be over the border before they even miss the SCA treasury."

The most wonderful thing about our sophomore year is that we are no longer freshmen. In spite of our new status, our lockers remained in the east wing. Graciously we took this puncture of our ego in stride and went on to greater things like spaghetti dinners. We then waded through Julius Caesar and the Idylls of the King; we explored the intricacies of the earthworm and the congruencies of the triangle. Maybe now we've earned the better half of Webster's definition of sophomore - "wise fool".

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders retire after another victory.

Guess what they're getting ready for?

Freshmen in the art of being freshmen.

CLASS OF 1969

Freshman Class Officers: Sally Sullivan, Vice-President; Sue Shepherd, Secretary; Joan Ramme, Treasurer; Rick Ellson, President.

September—School map, student handbook, and schedule in hand, I ventured upon Annandale High School. During first period I sat quietly in my homeroom. Only when I noticed my book was entitled Trigonometry did I realize that I had cut my first class. But lunch period was the most crushing half hour; in the midst of a sickening smell of warm milk and the noise of several hundred teenagers, not a friendly face, not an empty seat could I find; I retired to a corner.

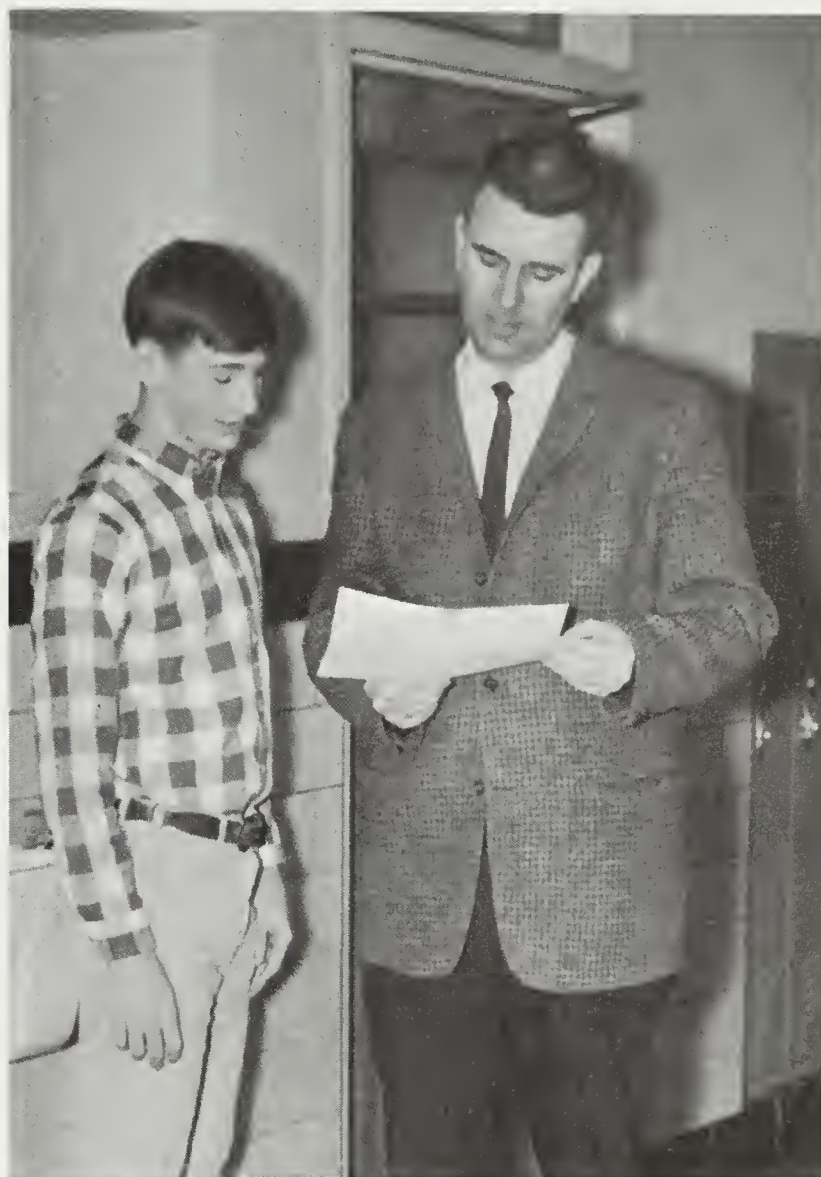

June—Only a few days from becoming a sophomore, I am now a changing person. My cafeteria clique includes eighteen members of the same sex, I belong to twelve clubs, and I own my first hardcover yearbook. In these past nine months, I have begun to learn, if not understand, the art of attending Annandale High School.

Chuck Moebus defeats Mr. Higgins in a lightning-fast round of tic-tac-toe.

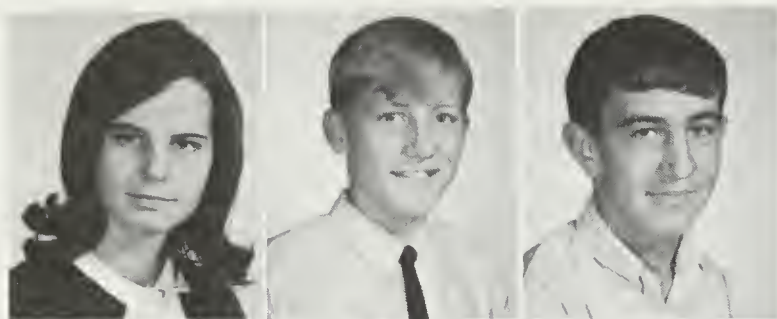

Another freshman is about to be freed from the upperclass prison?

Mr. Porter, class sponsor, and Rick Ellson look over the calendar of events for the class of '69.

Mr. Buckley speaks to the S.P.T.A.

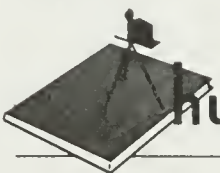

MR. BUCKLEY

On an April afternoon, students and teachers read in The Evening Star that Mr. Ralph Buckley, principal of Annandale High School, would leave to become Assistant Superintendent for School Services for Fairfax County. After his twelve years at Annandale, countless teachers, post-graduates, and members of the staff will remember Mr. Buckley as not only an efficient administrator but also a loyal friend. Most of us can recall his doing us at least one special favor. Most of us can hardly imagine Annandale High School without Mr. Buckley. The student body, faculty, and staff wish Mr. Buckley much success in his new position.
